A Whirlwind of Travel

It's been a whirlwind this last month. I put over 5000 miles on the car, and that didn't even count the Alaska side-trip. It has been amazing to enjoy the amazing variety of sights across the country. Just wish I could have spent even more time drinking it all in. Of course all the people along the way have also added tremendously to the experience. I'm so grateful for His provision of a great vehicle and safe travels throughout.

Something like this:

- Milwaukee, Wisconsin - visit with friends
- Iowa/Minn border area - sister and family
- northern Idaho - workshop on facilitating group learning
- southern Idaho - brother's
- Alaska - other brother's and family & checking out some of the beauty
- southern Idaho- pick up the car to go
- northern Indiana - debriefing retreat with other like-minded people
- quick stop in - Grand Rapids to repack
- settling in for a bit in NE Detroit area

Traveling is so much easier on this side of the ocean. But I'll admit, I'm glad to be able to settle into the same bed for a while. Time to catch up on plenty of paperwork and will be visiting with friends, Ch. groups, and supporters

Continue to pray for South Asia as they deal with Covid. It truly has been a very deadly time for quite a few countries, including mine. A reliable organization has a list of at least 150 "Body" leaders who have died related to Covid throughout the country. This is a big potentially long-term difficult impact on so many. Things are starting to open up again from lock-down, but that could also mean a resurgence of disease. Economically though, there continues to be great need to get back to some kind of normalcy where people can work and earn as needed.

Partnering leaders in the Far West hill area reached out again to provide specifically needed relief to the family and neighbors around them. Small amounts of help was divided up in all seven districts by 17 different leaders as they consulted together about the needs. While there has been plenty of Covid infection, this area seems to have had a lower amount and better recovery then many other areas of the country. Once again planned activities and outreach have had to be put on hold. Phone & zoom have again been used for meetings, discipling, and counseling together as much as possible.

I plan to be based in the Detroit area until the end of August. Then back to the Grand Rapids area in September. And then hopefully back across the ocean sometime in October.

Please be in touch if we can try to meet face to face.
