Good afternoon,

We learned today that Susan's mother, May Felty/Evarts, was called home to her Lord and Saviour in her sleep last night. She was 94. She had lived a life of service. She has been forever delivered from dementia and the limitations and indignities that age inflicts upon us. She is now truly at peace, experiencing the joy and comfort of Heaven.

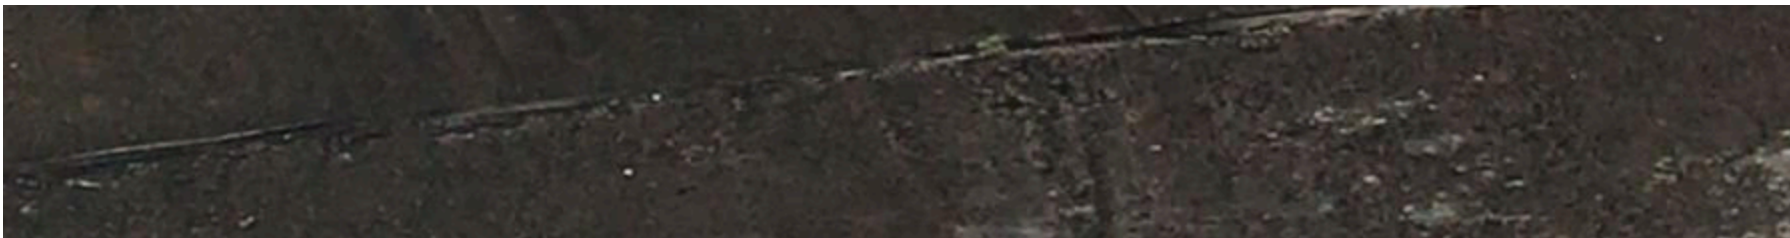

We are planning to go to Dallas for the funeral, but we don't know yet when that will be. (Ticket prices are very high for the next few weeks.)

Susan is much better than she was, but still limited in terms of how much she can do. She should be able to fly (the doctor had had her on a no-fly order since November).

On another note, Grenada will be celebrating its 50th anniversary of independence on the 7th of February. The picture below is the front of the school.
