Day 9 - My Family

I have enjoyed all the family time I have had these last several years. I am very appreciative for the ways that my parents have and are continuing to support me. At the beginning, I couldn't drive because of past seizures, and my mom was a huge help in transporting me around. I am glad that I can drive again, but good conversations happen in vehicles.

My parents are excited for me to go (and I can assume that my brothers are also; they don't talk much). However, it doesn't change the fact that we are starting to work through the emotions that come with knowing I will be so far away. It's especially difficult as I see my grandparents and my great-aunts and -uncles age.
